

JOHN JAY COLLEGE
THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

In the News

April 1 – 30, 2010

John Jay College faculty, staff, students and alumni were featured, quoted, cited and/or mentioned in 418 articles that appeared in national and major city print media outlets, online news services and blogs.

Please note this is only a sampling of print/online coverage. It is based on news clippings obtained through Cision Media Service, Lexis/Nexis, and Google that primarily search top media markets. Since we do not subscribe to a media monitoring service for television/radio coverage, those mentions are based solely on internal records.

Further note, blogs are now included in this report since many have become recognized media sources and an important part of viral marketing.

April 1, 2010

- The website lifesitenews.com accused researchers from John Jay College of Criminal Justice of downplaying the link between homosexuality and the sexual abuse of male victims because they have to “get along in New York City.”
- The blogs Michael Tomasky on the Guardian, London, U.K., NewsBusters.org, and Think Progress mention John Jay College of Criminal Justice’s study on sexual molestation by priests in a blog on Catholic League President William Donohue and his statement on Larry King’s program that by the time boys reach the age of 12 or 13 they are post-pubescent.
- The website Independent Florida Alligator Online from the University of Florida, reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice faculty came in third on the website ratemyprofessor.com.
- The blog Random Nuclear Strikes cited research by Professor Ric Curtis that found young Latinos and African Americans disenchanted with the drug use of their parents and older siblings.
- The Associated Press announced the winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.
- The website narrowpathoflife.blogspot.com discussed the findings of John Jay College of Criminal Justice researchers who made a distinction between priests who committed homosexual acts with underage parishioners and those priests who identify themselves as gay.
- The website liberalwhoppers.com criticized researchers at John Jay College of Criminal Justice for asserting that though the majority of sexual abuse by priests was homosexual in nature, homosexuality was not the root cause of the problem.

April 2, 2010

- Margaret Smith, a John Jay College of Criminal Justice criminologist who researched the sexual abuse of children by Catholic priests, told the blogs Lifesite, and the website mediamatters.org and thestar.com, that Catholic League president William Donohue was wrong when he called clergy who had molested male victims gay.
- Professor Lawrence Kobilinsky was quoted in an article about the problems at the San Francisco’s police crime lab that was reported by News 10, Sacramento, CA, 1380 WAOK, Atlanta, GA, News West 9, Odessa, TX, ABC 7 News, New York, NY, the Associated Press, timesfreepress.com, Bay News 9, Tampa Bay, FL, the Journal-Gazette, Fort Wayne, IN, KRHD, College Station, TX, KMPH, Memphis, TN, OneNewsNow, SanLuisObispo.com, khq.com, Spokane, WA, wgem.com, the Daily Caller news website, breitbart.com, forbes.com, FeedBurner, Fox 35, Orlando, FL, Fox 12 KTRV, Boise, ID, wafb.com, Baton Rouge, LA, Eyewitness News 12, Providence, RI, KTIV News Channel 4, Sioux City, SD, KTTC, Rochester, MN, yahoo.com, KIONRIGHTNOW.com, Monterey, CA, the Boston Globe, Fox 13 Now, Salt Lake City, UT, modbee.com, Modesto, CA, mercurynews.com, San Jose, CA, 1010 WINS, WAND TV, Central Illinois, the Daily Journal, Los Angeles, CA, KNDO/KNDU, Yakima, WA, CBS 12 KCOY, Santa Maria, CA, Lancaster Online, Lancaster, PA, Hawaii News Now, Honolulu, HI, kttu.com, Anchorage, AK, newsmax.com, the CW KFRE, San Joaquin Valley, CA, ABC 6, Providence, RI, khou.com, Houston, TX, MY SUNCOAST, Sarasota, FL, KJCT News 8, Grand Junction, CO, 13 Action News, Toledo, OH, KLTV 7, Tyler, TX, and on abcnews.go.com.

- The website d3soccer.com reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice will sponsor a varsity women's soccer program in fall 2010.
- The John Jay College of Criminal Justice softball team won one game of a double-header against the College of Staten Island, according to the website csidolphins.com.

April 3, 2010

- The blog Opinionated Catholic cites John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by clergy calls for a distinction to be made between priests who molested children and those who had sex with teenagers.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's baseball team won one game of a double-header against the College of Staten Island, according to the Staten Island Advance.
- The Hamilton Spectator, Ontario, Canada, and the Toronto Star, Toronto, Canada, quoted John Jay College of Criminal Justice researcher Margaret Smith on the vast majority of sexual abuse cases by priests occurring between the years 1965 and 1980.
- The website athletics.baruch.cuny reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice's baseball team beat that of Baruch College's.
- Professor Lawrence Kobilinsky was quoted in an article about the problems at the San Francisco's police crime lab that was reported by officer.com.
- The website dailybeast.com mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on priests who molest minors in an article about Jewish anger over the Vatican likening the outrage over the abuse to anti-Semitism.
- Professor Charles B. Strozier was mentioned in a posting on the overlap between Christian fundamentalists and militias on drx.typepad.com.
- The report by John Jay College of Criminal Justice researchers on sexual abuse by priests was mentioned in a column on the crisis by michigandaily.com.

April 4, 2010

- The website gayagenda.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice report on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a post on the blaming of the crisis on gay male.
- Professor Glenn Corbett was quoted by AOL News in an article about the search for remains at Ground Zero resuming.
- The website google.com posted an Associated Press article that broke down the study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy prepared by John Jay College of Criminal Justice.

- Professor Charles B. Strozier and the Center on Terrorism at John Jay College of Criminal Justice are holding a conference at Pace University's Schimmel Theater on The Wisdom of the Survivor.
- The winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards were named by the website ascribe.org.
- The website yahoo.news.com mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexually-abusive priests in an article on the $3 billion that the crisis has cost the Church.
- Professor Lawrence Kobilinsky was quoted in an article about the problems at the San Francisco's police crime lab that was reported by PoliceOne.

April 5, 2010

- Professor Lawrence Kobilinsky was quoted in an article about the problems at the San Francisco's police crime lab that was reported by ABC 33/40, Birmingham, AL and WVVA, Bluefield, WV.
- In an interview with Sabine Millien-Felix, an attorney who works with the Haitian Truth and Judicial Commission, the Haiti Observateur mentioned that she earned a baccalaureate degree from John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- Professor Robert McCrie was quoted on the blog Tim Boucher Says about how celebrities, such as Harry Houdini, liked to hobnob with spies and international police during a period that ranged from 1915 through the Cold War.
- The website nj.com reported that Stevens Institute of Technology's baseball team beat that of John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The news outlet People's World mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice in an article about how the sexual abuse scandal is rocking the Catholic Church to its foundation.
- The news outlet newsmax.com, zimbio.com, the Contra Costa Times, Contra Costa County, CA, chinapost.com.tw, Caribbean Business Online, Eassurvey's Weblog, edgenewengland.com and the Associated Press mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's report on sexual abuse of children by priests in an article about the crisis costing the Church $3 billion.
- The Society of Fellows of the American Academy in Rome Weblog reported that Professor Mary Gibson, an American Academy in Rome resident, is starting a new book on the history of prisons after Italian unification.
- The Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education, a journal, mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice in an article on CUNY graduate programs.
- Professor Donald J. Cannon, who taught at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Fire Academy, died at the age of 73, according to an obituary in the Star-Ledger, Newark, NJ and the website fireengineering.com.

- Patterns in the Catholic Church's molestation crisis found by researchers at John Jay College of Criminal Justice who studied the sexual abuse of children by priests were reported by the Associated Press, centredailytimes.com, MyNorthWest.com, the San Francisco Gate, thestate.com, MyMotherLode.com, philly.com, WPIX-TV, New York, NY, macon.com, nola.com, cleveland.com, heraldonline.com, OneNewsNow.com, the Journal-Gazette, Fort Wayne, IN, KRLD News Radio, Ft. Worth, TX, auburnpub.com, Newsday, HeraldToday.com, al.com, forbes.com, the Washington Post, Washington, DC, signonsandiego.com, NewsOK.com, the Daily Caller, and the blogs Aftermath News and Gay News.
- The blog Intelligence Daily mentioned the findings of John Jay College of Criminal Justice researchers on the sexual abuse of children by priests posted an article about whether the Vatican is a state and the Pope its head with respect to prosecuting the Church in the International Criminal Court on the grounds that pedophilia is a crime against humanity.
- The website gayonlinenews.com posted an Associated Press article that broke down the study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy prepared by John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- CBS News, forbes.com and ABC News mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests when reporting that the Church's sexual-abuse crisis in Europe is very similar to that of the United States in 2002 when the story broke.
- The National Catholic Reporter mentioned the report by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in a short article that updated the scandal.
- The websites manhattan-real-estate.net and ny.curbed.com glowingly described John Jay College of Criminal Justice's new building.

April 6, 2010

- Professor Eugene O'Donnell was interviewed by WNYC on the rising crime rates as the ranks of the NYPD thin.
- The Gazette, Colorado Springs, CO, mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on the sexual abuse of children by priests in an article about how poorly the Church handled the public relations aspect of the crisis by calling critics anti-Catholic and demon-possessed.
- The blog Crosscut discussed Professor David Kennedy's anti-crime initiatives as a way of punishing offenders while meting out less harsh punishments.
- El Diario/La Prensa reported the winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.
- The website historicalchristian.com mentions John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on the sexual abuse of children by priests in an article that blames criticism of Pope Benedict XVI and the huge media reaction to the crisis on a "moral panic."
- The Associated Press and impre.com quoted President Jeremy Travis in an article announcing the winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.

- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's men's tennis team beat that of York College in the CUNY Athletic Conference match, according to yorkathletics.com.
- The website draperprogram.blogspot.com announced that Professor David Munns would speak at the NYU History of the Telescope Conference.
- The website independent.org announced the Fighting the Criminalization of Youth, Immigrants and Activists conference hosted by John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's baseball team was defeated by that of the Stevens Institute of Technology, according to the website stevensduck.com.
- Professor Eugene O'Donnell was quoted in am New York about the potential return of "wilding" as the number of NYPD officers shrinks.
- Professor Andrew Karmen recommended in a Newsday article that the community of Hempstead Village, NY, address poverty and failing schools if it wanted to curb an increase in violent crime.
- The website catholicism.org criticized John Jay College of Criminal Justice's report on sexual abuse by priests because it found no link between abuse of male victims and homosexuality.

April 7, 2010

- A Pittsburgh councilman has called for an audit of the funds allocated to fund Professor David Kennedy's anti-crime and gun violence strategies, according to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Pittsburgh, PA.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice alumnus Louis G. Raiford, a former NYPD chief, has died, according to the Staten Island Advance.
- A review of John Jay College of Criminal Justice was posted on collegeprowler.com.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice second-baseman Nick Catalano was named Baseball Rookie of the Week by cunyathletics.com.
- The website topix.com reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice is just one of several colleges, including Fordham University, New York University and Columbia University in the midst of a construction project.
- The website innocenceproject.org reported that the organization had been awarded a Justice Award from John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The Corvallis Times-Gazette, Corvallis, OR, reported that the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on child sexual abuse by priests found patterns in the offending.

April 8, 2010

- Newsweek and the blogs Beliefnet and the Deacon's Bench mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse committed by members of the Catholic clergy in an article on whether priests abuse children at a higher rate than any other group.
- The Daily News, Memphis, TN, mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse of children by clergy in an article about seven priests accused of molestation when the Memphis diocese was part of the Diocese of Nashville.
- Professor Jon Shane commented to the Star-Ledger, Newark, NJ, on a shooting that broke the city's 37 homicide-free days.
- The Record, Woodland Park, NJ, mentioned the study on child sexual abuse by Catholic clergy done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice in an article that lists the salient findings.
- Dallasblog mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in an article that questions why Pope Benedict XVI is being attacked on the issue.
- Forbes.com and businesswire.com reported that attendance at the MaleSurvivor international conference held at John Jay College of Criminal Justice increased by 25 percent over previous events.
- The Knights of Columbus mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in a posting on clericalwhispers.blogspot.com that called for a novena to be said for Pope Benedict XVI.
- The El Paso Times, El Paso, TX, mentions the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in an article about the abuse crisis similarly facing European dioceses.

April 9, 2010

- The cunyathletics.com website mentioned that Bill Rasmussen, founder of ESPN, was at John Jay College of Criminal Justice for CUNYAC's Athletic Directors meeting to introduce CollegeFanz.com.
- According to the website brooklyncollegeathletics.com, John Jay College of Criminal Justice's softball team won one game of a double-header.
- The website wmbriggs.com commented on John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a posting on whether or not priests are more likely to molest than other adults.
- Professor Adam Scott Wandt blogged about different software that makes teaching online easier on his website wandt.commons.gc.cuny.edu.

- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy was mentioned in an oregonlive.com article on the confidential files that the Boys Scouts of America have kept on volunteers who were kicked out of the organization for child molesting.
- The blog uscbbmedia.blogspot.com mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a blog about a recent Newsweek article that raised the issue of women's lack of authority within the Church.
- The website yorkathletics.com reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice's softball team won against that of York College.
- Washington Daybook announced that Jeffrey Butts, executive director of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Criminal Justice Research and Evaluation Center would speak at the Coalition for Juvenile Justice National Conference.
- The website ascribe.org announced the winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.
- The comment thread on the blog MLIVE mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in a posting on America's true conservative values and the merging of political action with moral and Christian beliefs.
- The blog Counter Currents mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in an article about the scandal rocking the foundation of the Church.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy was mentioned on minnpost.com, St. Paul, MN in an article about the defense of Pope Benedict XVI by Archbishop John Nienstedt of St. Paul and Minneapolis.
- Bishop William Lori of the Diocese of Bridgeport, CT, mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in his defense of Pope Benedict XVI handling of the problem, according to catholicnewworld.com.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy was cited in a posting on the blog Gateway Pundit and in Newsweek that questions whether priests molest children at a rate higher than non-priests do.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice and the Center for Court Innovation will be collaborating with the Bronx Defenders on a project to create a Center for Holistic Defense, according to blog Defender411.
- The blog CNS mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in a posting that accused the New York Times of intentionally running a story on the molestation by a priest of hundreds of boys at a Wisconsin school for the deaf during Easter Week.
- The New York Times columnist Ross Douthat and the blogs The Sacred Page and Causa Nostrae Laetitiae mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on child sexual abuse by members of the Catholic clergy in a column that asserts priests molest children at no higher rate than is found in the general public.

April 10, 2010

- The Oregonian, Portland, OR, mentioned the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in an article about the confidential files kept by the Boy Scouts of America on alleged child molesters within the organization's ranks.
- Criminologist Margaret Leland Smith was quoted in an article about an institute in Aurora, Ontario, Canada, which provides counseling for troubled priests, including those who have molested children, according to the Chronicle Herald, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada and the New Brunswick Telegraph-Journal, New Brunswick, Canada.
- The website lehmanathletics.com reported on a baseball game between John Jay College of Criminal Justice and Lehman College in its play-by-play automated scorebook.
- A columnist on investors.com mentioned the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in an article about the motives of the New York Times in pursuing the story.
- The blog FAIR cited the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in a critique of a Newsweek article on the crisis that it says grossly underestimates the percentage of Catholic clergy who committed illegal acts.
- The blogs La Salette Journey and Catholic Exchange cite the findings of the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests as proof that Catholic clergy do not abuse children any more often than do clergy of other churches.
- MYFOX8, which covers the Piedmont area of North Carolina, broke down the figures in the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests.
- The Clarion Ledger, Jackson, MS, mentioned the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in an article about Europe is about to experience the same crisis as the U.S. did in 2002.
- Professor Blanche Wiesen Cook received the Publishing Triangle's Bill Whitehead Award for Lifetime Achievement, according to Peter Scott's Library Blog.
- An editorial in the Sault Star, Ontario, Canada, mentions the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a piece on how much automatic respect priests have lost in the wake of the scandal.
- The blog saacdelacroix.blogspot.com cited the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in a posting that applauded Newsweek for stating that Catholic clergy do not molest children at a rate higher than that of non-Catholic clergy.

- The huffingtonpost.com mentioned the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in a posting about celibacy being a red herring and clergy of other religions being just as likely to molest as Catholic clergy.

April 11, 2010

- The website chacha.com answered to a question about John Jay College of Criminal Justice that the college is considered the best in criminal justice majors.
- The John Jay College of Criminal Justice baseball team beat that of the College of Staten Island in a three-game CUNYAC sweep, according to the Staten Island Advance.
- The columnist Mark Barna of the Colorado Springs Gazette, Colorado Springs, CO, mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice researchers on sexual abuse by priests in a piece on how the Vatican should take note of the American church's public relations acumen.
- The New York Times ran photographs taken at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.
- The New York Times ran the wedding announcement of Stacey Frank who is studying for her master's degree in criminal justice at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The Courier Post, Camden, NJ, quoted Professor Dennis Kenney about the effects of a police scandal on a department's relationship with residents.
- The College Hill Independent, a paper produced by students at Brown University and the Rhode Island School of Design, listed Professor Jennifer Dysart as a participant in Brown's Eyewitness Identification Summit.
- The amlawdaily.typepad.com quoted Vielka Holness, director of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Pre-Law Institute in posting on educating students to be law professors instead of professional attorneys.
- An article in the Baltimore Chronicle and Sentinel, Baltimore, MD, mentions the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in an article that chronicles the scandal.
- The blog wdprs.wordpress.com mentions the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in a comment thread that blames a hyper-sexualized society for the Catholic Church's problems.
- Earnedmedia.org cites the findings of the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests as proof that the problem has not expanded, but rather contracted over the past 25 years.
- The magazine America mentioned the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in a posting about celibacy being a red herring and clergy of other religions being just as likely to molest as Catholic clergy.

- Radicalprofeminist.blogspot.com used the findings of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse of children by priests to support legal action against Pope Benedict XVI when he visits the United Kingdom.

April 12, 2010

- Criminologist Margaret Smith was quoted about the prevalence of unwanted sexual approaches to underage girls in a Newsweek article about how the Catholic Church has excluded women from any positions of power.
- The blog thegreenhorns.blogspot.com listed Professor Susan Opatow as among the speakers at a conference entitled "The Mind in the Age of Environmental Destruction: A Panel Discussion," at the College of New Rochelle.
- Professor Eugene O'Donnell was quoted by the New York Post on how the lack of interest among NYPD officers in taking the captains exam is indicative of low morale within the force.
- The New York Times dance listings included performances at the Gerald W. Lynch Theater at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The blog Newsbusters cites the findings of the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests to support the assertion that the problem is not growing, but rather has contracted over the past 25 years.

April 13, 2010

- An essay on the website catholicculture.org called the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy a "graywash" that did not provide an audit of sexual abusers along with the names and dates of specific bishops and dioceses.
- The Denver Post, Denver, CO mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in an article about the speedy removal of a priest after he was accused of molesting a child 35 years ago.
- The Herald Sun, Melbourne, Australia, cited the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on child sexual abuse by priests in an article that lists seven questions the media should have asked before smearing Pope Benedict XVI.
- The website www1.cuny.edu reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice won top honors at the Model UN Conference for the sixth consecutive year.
- In answer to a query about whether to attend John Jay College of Criminal Justice or City College if one wants to go to law school, answers.yahoo.com said only one's GPA and LSAT scores mattered.
- The blog papundits.wordpress.com mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in a rant against the media's coverage of the crisis during Holy Week.

- On the blogs Lifesite, and the website independent.ie, the finding by John Jay College of Criminal Justice researchers that the majority of victims of sexual abuse by priests were boys is used to support the statement by Vatican Secretary of State, Tarcisio Bertone, that homosexuality is at the root of the crisis.
- An announcement by Career Services @ John Jay College about its Spring Career Fair was posted on facebook.com.
- The collegeproowler.com rated John Jay College of Criminal Justice on atmosphere, athletics, health and safety, and weather.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's men's tennis team beat Baruch College's Bearcats, according to the website athletics.baruch.cuny.edu.
- The blog content.usatoday.com mentioned that the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by clergy makes a distinction between those priests who identify themselves as homosexual and those who do not, but sexually abused male children and teenagers.
- Professor David Kennedy's anti-gang initiative in Pittsburgh cannot be audited because it has not yet been implemented, according to an article in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Pittsburgh, PA about the program's failure to launch, despite the allocation of funds.
- Law.com, indianalawblog.com, slaw.ca, and the Wall Street Journal's Law Blog quoted Vielka Holness, director of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Pre-Law Institute on legal educations that do not prepare students to actually become professional lawyers, but rather to become academics.
- The blog nlgja.blogspot.com cited the finding by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests that makes a distinction between those priests who identify themselves as homosexual and those who consider themselves heterosexual, but molested boys.
- The website ewtn.com posted a Q&A with Archbishop Wilton Gregory of Atlanta, who as president of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, ordered the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests.

April 14, 2010

- The Pittsburgh City Council voted to allocate an additional $7,000 to the $60,000 allocated last year for a contract for Professor David Kennedy to launch the city's Pittsburgh Initiative to Reduce Crime, according to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette blog Fine Point.
- El Diario/La Prensa quoted President Jeremy Travis in an article about the winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.
- The website standardspeaker.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice report on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a posting that blamed the problem on the "liberal ideas" first espoused in the 1960s.

- The website en.allexperts.com responded to a question about whether it is better to attend John Jay College of Criminal Justice or Brooklyn College if one wants to pursue a legal career by stating that a high GPA and LSAT score are more important than a major or alma mater.
- Denver Post, Denver Post, CO columnist Vincent Carroll mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a piece on the priest who was removed from the Denver Archdiocese after being accused of molesting a minor during the 1970s.
- The Rob Simone show on startalkfm.com and the blog Comment is Free discussed the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in an article about the falsity of linking homosexuality to pedophilia.
- Wiselaw.blogspot.com quoted Vielka Holness, director of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Pre-Law Institute on law schools that are teaching students to be academics as opposed to practicing lawyers.
- Speroforum.com and conwebwatch.com used the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests to support its assertion that the problem has contracted over the past 25 years and not expanded, as the media has suggested.
- A posting on onenewspage.com cited the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in a posting on how child molesters use seduction rather than coercion to prey on victims.
- NewsBusters.org used the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests to support the contention that the abuse of male children and teenagers was committed by homosexual clergy.
- The blog Word Warrior mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in an article on how insurance companies would make Catholic churches pay more for insurance if they believed child molestation more common amongst that religion's clergy.
- The website news.com.au mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in an editorial about the media being to blame for the Catholic Church's problems.

April 15, 2010

- The website ethicalnag.org mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in an article that compared the Church's cover-up of the crime to Toyota's denial of its defective accelerators.
- The Staten Island Advance wrote a profile of John Jay College of Criminal Justice student Danielle Bonici who plays on the softball team.
- Professor Maki Haberfeld was quoted by the Miami Herald, Miami, FL in an article about the mixing of politics and policing on the city's new police corruption squad.

- Bedding manufacturer and entrepreneur Robert Chamberlin, an alumnus of John Jay College of Criminal Justice, died at the age of 63, according to the Times, Trenton, NJ.
- The website ismailmail.wordpress.com announced that attorney Amin Kassam would be speaking about how one Muslim community created a structure for resolving disputes at the monthly round-table breakfast held by the CUNY Dispute Resolution Consortium at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The website frontpagemag.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice report on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in an article that explores the Church's reasons for secrecy.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice was mentioned in an article posted on latindispatch.com about the four-hour "Fighting the Criminalization of Youth, Immigrants and Activists" sponsored by the College and New York University.
- The website topix.com mentioned the study on sexual abuse by priests done by researchers at John Jay College of Criminal Justice in an article about girls who were also victimized by Catholic clergy.
- Facebook.com posted a message from John Jay College of Criminal Justice about joining the Psi Chi psychological society.
- Americamagazine.com and americancatholic.org cited the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in an article about how the British Catholic bishops' conference deplores the view of Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone, the Vatican's Secretary of State, that homosexuality and pedophilia are linked.
- The website newsessentials.blogspot.com cited the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests questioned whether vows of chastity given by homosexuals are valid.
- Professor David Munns will be a participant in a conference on the history of the telescope, according to the blog earlymodern-lit.blogspot.com.
- The National Catholic Reporter cited the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an article about how much press the crisis has had, and how little press is given to similar problems in other religious institutions.
- The website zenit.org mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in a Q&A with an Italian sociologist who ultimately concluded that a "gay lobby" was behind the criticism of Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone for his comment that homosexuality and pedophilia are linked.

April 16, 2010

- The blog dominusjesuschristus.blogspot.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an article about the press's misinterpretation of Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone's comments on supposed links between homosexuality and pedophilia.

- El Diario/La Prensa wrote about the winners of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice 2010 Justice Awards.
- The National Catholic Register mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an interview with a sex abuse expert who discussed the change in Vatican culture since Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger became Pope Benedict XVI.
- Joe Domanick, associate director of John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice, was quoted by the Vancouver Sun, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada about whether the Obama Administration would ever consider legalizing marijuana as a way to fill state coffers.
- The Washington Post, Washington, DC cited the John Jay College of Criminal Justice's report on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in an article about five myths about the crisis.
- Zakkir.com, liveshots.blogs.foxnews.com, the New York Times and 1010 WINS reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice was the subject of a federal lawsuit that charged it with discriminating against non-citizens in its hiring practices.
- The San Francisco Examiner, San Francisco, CA and the news outlet FeedBurner reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice has been accused by the U.S. Department of Justice of discriminating against non-citizens in its hiring practices.
- The website newyorkcool.com announced that the "Legacy of Shoah" 2010 season would be presented at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The Post-Standard, Syracuse, NY, quoted Professor Dennis Kenney on the pointlessness of a high-profile police crackdown on drivers using cellphones.

April 17, 2010

- The New York Times, WNBC-TV News, the blogs 24Ahead and OneNewsPage, the Gothamist, the Daily Mail, London, U.K., 2HD TV, US Federal News and the New York Daily News wrote articles about John Jay College of Criminal Justice getting sued by the U.S. Department of Justice for allegedly discriminating against non-citizen employees.
- Newsday profiled Lasheca Lewis, a Long Island teenager who was chosen as a summer Congressional page, who said she wants to attend John Jay College of Criminal Justice and become a lawyer.
- NY1 interviewed President Jeremy Travis about the performance of new Manhattan District Attorney Cyrus Vance in the face of a spike in the city's crime rate.
- The New York Times reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center for International Human Rights is helping support a mini-conference surrounding a staged reading of Sanjit De Silva's play "Grace."

- The late Professor James Fyfe was quoted by Joe Domanick, Associate Director of John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice, in an article posted on thecrimereport.org and oneminutelawyer.com about Daryl Gates, the former chief of the Los Angeles Police Department who died this month.
- The Washington Post, Washington, DC mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an article that lists five myths about the Catholic Church's molestation scandal.
- The blog Word Warrior mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in a posting that discusses Newsweek's article on female victims.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice hosted a forum on the issue of hydrofracture gas drilling in New York City's watershed, according to the Villager, New York, NY.

April 18, 2010

- The blogs diversityteam.blogspot.com and universitybusiness.com posted an article about John Jay College of Criminal Justice being the subject of a federal lawsuit that charged it with discriminating against non-citizens in its hiring practices.
- Joe Domanick, associate director of John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice, was quoted by the Los Angeles Times for an article on the death of former Los Angeles Police Chief Daryl Gates.
- The blogs lawprofessors.typepad.com and affirmativeaction.blogspot.com posted articles John Jay College of Criminal Justice being charged by the U.S. Department of Justice of discrimination against non-citizens in its hiring practices.
- The Washington Post, Washington, DC mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an article that lists five myths about the scandal.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice will be a stop on a national speaking tour of the campaign to end the death penalty, according to the website publish.nyc.indymedia.org.
- Professor Peter Moskos was quoted in an article on cleveland.com about an Ohio judge who said that if people were worried about a thinning in the ranks of law enforcement, they should arm themselves.
- Professor Cyriaco Lopes will participate in a Place and Memory symposium being held at Grinnell College, according to the KCRG, Cedar Rapids, IA.
- The website catholic-clergy.suite101.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in an article about the removal of a priest from the priesthood by East Tennessee Bishop Richard Stika.

April 19, 2010

- The website anglican-mainstream.net mentioned that John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy found that 81 percent of victims were male and the majority adolescents.
- Broadwayworld.com announced the performance of the play "All Dressed Up," at the Gerald W. Lynch Theater at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The Alameda Times-Star, which covers California's Bay Area, the Argus, Fremont, CA, the Daily Review, Hayward, CA, the Tri-Valley Herald, Pleasanton, CA, the Oakland Tribune, Oakland, CA, the San Mateo County Times, San Mateo County, CA, and the Contra Costa Times, Contra Costa County, CA, mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by priests in a column by Bishop of Oakland, CA, Salvatore Joseph Cordileone that apologizes to victims.
- The Plain Dealer, Cleveland, OH, quoted Professor Peter Moskos in an article about an Ashtabula County, OH, judge who suggested that in the absence of law enforcement, concerned citizens should arm themselves.
- Brenna Stewart, the daughter of disbarred lawyer Lynn Stewart, continues to teach at John Jay College of Criminal Justice despite having had her law license suspended and losing her right to teach in New York City high schools, according to law.com.
- In a rebuttal to Wall Street Journal columnist Peggy Noonan's column on the sexual abuse crisis in the Catholic church, a blogger on richleonardi.blogspot.com mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on the problem.
- The website universitybusiness.com reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice has been accused of bias against noncitizens by the Department of Justice.
- El Diario/La Prensa reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice had been accused of discriminating against non-citizen job applicants.
- The John Jay College of Criminal Justice baseball team was defeated by the New Jersey City University Gothic Knights, according to nj.com.

April 20, 2010

- The blog blogs.geniocity.com cited Vielka Holness, director of the John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Pre-Law Institute on the need for law schools to teach the practice of law in addition to legal theory.
- The Post-Standard, Syracuse, NY, mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in an article about the Catholic Church increasing vigilance on the problem.

- The website the-american-catholic.com discusses the statistical analyses done by researchers at John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy during the 1960s and 1970s.
- La Raza and the blog Political Animal reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice had been accused of discriminating against non-citizen job applicants.
- The Concord Monitor Online, the Contra Costa Times, Contra Costa, CA, the Alberta Local News, Alberta, Canada, and the blogs In-Forum and EWTN, mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests.
- The Catholic News Agency mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an article that takes Wall Street Journal columnist Peggy Noonan to task for her criticism of the Catholic Church.
- The Washington Post, Washington, DC mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's strong forensic science program in an article about high school seniors applying to many more colleges than they had in the past.
- The CUNY News Wire reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice artist-in-residence Caroline Stoessinger received the Visionary Award of the American Dreamer Awards from the New York City Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs.

April 21, 2010

- A conference held at John Jay College of Criminal Justice on Wall Street and fraud was mentioned on Bill Moyers Journal and reprinted on confrontaal.org.
- Delawareonline.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy.
- The CUNY News Wire reported that President Jeremy Travis was awarded the Distinguished Public Service Award for Outstanding Contributions to Public Service from the School of Criminal Justice, the State University of New York at Albany.
- The Virginian-Pilot, Virginia Beach, VA, which covers Virginia Beach and the Outerbanks, published the obituary of William Lloyd Joyner III, a former NYPD officer and graduate of John Jay College of Criminal Justice, class of 1979.
- The website www1.cuny.edu reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice Artist-in-Residence Caroline Stoessinger received the Visionary Award of the American Dreamer Awards from the New York City Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs.
- The Washington Monthly, Washington, DC reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice was accused by the Department of Justice of discriminating against non-citizens in his hiring practices.

April 22, 2010

- An article posted on psychoanalystsopposewar.org mentioned a study cited in the John Jay College of Criminal Justice that found children who are abused by a protector, such as a religious leader, can suffer from a malfunctioning of the neuroendocrine system, in addition to other consequences.
- Newyorkcitybeat.com, immigrationdaily.com, and the Gothamist reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice has been accused by the Department of Justice of discrimination toward non-citizen job seekers.
- The blog Catholic San Francisco, San Francisco, CA, the Archdiocese of Washington, Washington, DC, the Salt Lake City Tribune, Salt Lake City, UT, the Catholic News Agency and the New Brunswick Telegraph-Journal, New Brunswick, Canada, all mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests.
- Forbes.com and interestalert.com reported that the Joyce Foundation awarded $80,000 to John Jay College of Criminal Justice to support work on gun violence at the Center on Media, Crime and Justice.
- The website americanfreethought.com mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice in an article that compared the beliefs of retired Episcopal Bishop John Shelby Spong and Catholic League President William Donohue on whether the media is showing anti-Catholic bias in its coverage of the sexual abuse crisis.
- An entrance exam for the U.S. Capitol Police was held at John Jay College of Criminal Justice, according to the website forums.officer.com.
- The John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on child sexual abuse by priests was mentioned in a Houston Press, Houston, TX, article about a man who sued the Pope.

April 23, 2010

- A rebuttal to Wall Street Journal columnist Peggy Noonan's column on the sexual abuse crisis in the Catholic Church posted on spectator.org mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on the problem.
- PR Newswire reported that the Joyce Foundation has awarded $80,000 to John Jay College of Criminal Justice to support work on gun violence at the Center on Media, Crime and Justice.
- Psyche, Science and Society, the National Catholic Register, USCCB Media, the American Spectator and newsofdelawarecounty.com all cited John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by priests.
- Theatermania.com and playbill.com announced that director/choreographer Kenny Ortega would be given the Douglas Watt Lifetime Achievement Award at a ceremony to be held at the Gerald W. Lynch Theater at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.

- The Record Online included John Jay College of Criminal Justice in its roundup of baseball scores.
- The website online-criminal-justice.net announced that former basketball player Allen Jones and Dr. Mark Naison, a professor at Fordham University, would discuss their book The Rat That Got Away: A Bronx Memoir, at John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The blog uscbbmedia.blogspot.com mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy in a posting of an interview with a sexual abuse expert on what the Church has done right.

April 24, 2010

- The Toronto Star, Toronto, Canada, the North County Times, San Diego County, CA, the National Catholic Register and the Capital Times, Madison, WI, mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice report on sexual abuse by clergy in an article about a new generation of female victims of priests seek justice.
- The Wisconsin State Journal cited the John Jay College of Criminal Justice report on sexual abuse by Catholic clergy.
- An article by the Salt Lake Tribune, Salt Lake City, UT, on veterans in prison gave credit to the Center on Media, Crime and Justice at John Jay College of Criminal Justice for its support.
- The Richmond Times-Dispatch,, Richmond, VA mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse of children by priests in an article on five myths surrounding the crisis.

April 25, 2010

- John Jay College of Criminal Justice was mentioned in a New York Times article on college admission strategies as one of the schools that had accepted a high school student the story had profiled.
- PR Newswire reported that the Joyce Foundation has awarded $80,000 to John Jay College of Criminal Justice to support work on gun violence at the Center on Media, Crime and Justice.
- Professor Dennis Kenney was quoted by the Associated Press, the Pocono Record, Stroudsburg, PA, and the Star-Ledger, Newark, NJ, in an article about police officers using a sliding scale to decide when to give fellow officers who are off-duty a pass for such infractions as speeding.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice was acknowledged as having supported the reporting on an article about the release of prison inmates due to Florida's budgetary woes on ocala.com, Ocala, FL.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice was acknowledged as having supported the reporting on an article about the release of prison inmates due to Ohio's budget woes on cincinnati.com, Cincinnati, OH.

- A letter about sexual abuse by priests garnering too much media attention written to the Orange County Register, Santa Ana, CA, mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on the problem.
- The Toronto Star, Toronto, Canada, opednews.com and the Hamilton Spectator, Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by priests in an article about female victims.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice was acknowledged for its support of the reporting in a Salt Lake City Tribune, Salt Lake City, UT, article on veterans going to prison.
- Professor Maki Haberfeld told the poconorecord.com and the Star-Ledger, Newark, NJ, that unless there are detailed rules that on how police should enforce the law with fellow officers, there will remain a "blue wall of silence" where officers cover for colleagues.

April 26, 2010

- John Jay College of Criminal Justice researcher Margaret Smith was quoted in an article on the website lewebpedagogique.com that discussed the lack of female input in the handling of the Catholic Church's sexual abuse scandal.
- The report on child sexual abuse prepared by John Jay College of Criminal Justice was mentioned in a Detroit Free Press, Detroit, MI article on the reforms growing in the wake of the scandal.
- The Orange County Register, Orange County, CA, mentioned the John Jay College of Criminal Justice study on sexual abuse by priests in an op-ed about the scandal getting too much media attention.
- The Gainesville Sun, Gainesville, FL, acknowledged the John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice for its support in the reporting of an article about whether Florida's budget constraints will lead to changes in the state's mandatory sentencing laws.
- WNPR mentioned the study prepared by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in a timeline of the scandal.
- Dr. Katherine Ramsland's blog, In Cold Blog, notes that she is an alumna of John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- Albanylawdiversity.wordpress.com welcomed Vielka Holness, director of John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Pre-Law Institute and 18 students to Albany Law School for the day.
- Professor Dennis Kenney was quoted in the Press of Atlantic City, Atlantic City, NJ, and by the Courier-Post, Camden, NJ, on the sliding scale that exists for police officers when it comes to charging fellow officers who are off-duty for traffic infractions.

- The Cincinnati Enquirer, Cincinnati, OH credited a John Jay College of Criminal Justice fellowship with providing the funding for research and interviews on the subject of prison crowding.
- The website wcbs880.com reported that John Jay College of Criminal Justice has been accused by the Department of Justice of requiring noncitizens to show work documents beyond what is necessary.

April 27, 2010

- An article on the problem of sexual abuse of children by huffingtonpost.com blogger Vinnie Rotondaro, mentioned the study prepared by John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- The huffingtonpost.com blogger Phil Trounstine mentioned Professor David Shapiro's article on the stock spinning in a posting on Goldman Sachs.
- Professor Emeritus Ann Barbeau Gardiner contributed an article to the blog greenpopcontrol.wordpress.com.
- The Gainesville Sun, Gainesville, FL, acknowledged the John Jay College of Criminal Justice's Center on Media, Crime and Justice for its support in the reporting of an article about the 10-member Correctional Policy Advisory Council, creating in 2008 to evaluate specific sentencing practices.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's women's softball team was defeated by St. Joseph's College 12-9, according to the website bears.sjcny.edu.
- The blog elisa-rolle.livejournal.com posted an article about Professor Blanche Weisen Cook, the recipient of the 2010 Publishing Triangle Bill Whitehead Lifetime Achievement award for her scholarship on Eleanor Roosevelt.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's study on sexual abuse by priests was mentioned in a PBS broadcast that featured Cardinal William Levada.
- The New York Observer reported that groups such as Landmark West and architectural preservation organizations have suggested that the Con Edison building on West 58th Street could be used as extra space by John Jay College of Criminal Justice.

April 28, 2010

- President Obama nominated John Jay College of Criminal Justice alumnus Charles Dunne to serve as U.S. Marshal for the Eastern District of New York, according to blog.taragana.com, whitehouse.gov and examiner.com.
- The Wall Street Journal quoted Professor Louis Schlesinger in an article about an alleged serial killer in Yonkers, NY, who investigators think may have been involved in more than just the three homicides he have been charged with.

- Bishop Michael Sheridan mentioned the study done by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse of children by priests in a Colorado Springs Gazette, Colorado Springs, CO, editorial.
- An article on yahoo.news.com mentioned the study by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on sexual abuse by priests in an article about the return of anti-Catholicism.
- The website capitaldefenseweekly.com published a call for lawyers to volunteer for a John Jay College of Criminal Justice research study on plea bargaining.
- The blog cwclinicalpsychologyalum.wordpress.com announced the John Jay College of Criminal Justice Forensic Psychology master's student research symposium.
- The Bangor Daily News, Bangor, ME, mentioned a discrepancy in the gender of abuse victims between the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children and the report by John Jay College of Criminal Justice on Catholic clergy and pedophilia.

April 29, 2010

- The New York Times printed President Jeremy Travis's letter defending John Jay College of Criminal Justice's hiring practices in light of accusations that it has engaged in discrimination against noncitizens.
- Sculptor Susan Sills has had her work shown at John Jay College of Criminal Justice, according to the CUNY News Wire.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice alumnus Charles G. Dunne has been tapped by President Obama to be the U.S. Marshal for the Eastern District, according to Newsday and the US Federal News.
- The website flavorwire.com reported that the 1904 Rapid Transit Company Powerhouse on 59th Street has been mentioned as possible extra space for John Jay College of Criminal Justice.
- Professor Lisa E. Farrington will be speaking at a symposium at the CUNY Graduate Center called "Imaging/Imagining the Skeleton" that discusses how social conceptions of the human form have evolved alongside the increasing ability of science and medicine to represent the body, according to morbidanatomy.blogspot.com.
- John Jay College of Criminal Justice's baseball team will be playing an upcoming game with College of Staten Island, according to athletics.baruch.cuny.edu.
- Information about the Educational Talent Search Program at John Jay College of Criminal Justice was posted on facebook.com.
- The John Jay College of Criminal Justice baseball team defeated City College of New York by 9-8, according to cunyathletics.com.

April 30, 2010

- An article on the increasing violence and intimidation by anti-abortion protestors on the blog rhrealitycheck.org was one of a series of original criminal justice journalism projects produced by John Jay College of Criminal Justice and the Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation.
- Professor William P.T. Preston, chairman of the History Department at John Jay College of Criminal Justice from 1973 to 1988, died at the age of 85, according to mvgazette.com.
- Professor David Kennedy was mentioned by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Pittsburgh, PA in an article about the network of social services needed for the implementation of his anti-gang initiative.
- The website cunyathletics.com mentioned an upcoming game between John Jay College of Criminal Justice's baseball team and that of the College of Staten Island.
- The blog theswivit.blogspot.com announced that Professor Blanche Weisen Cook was the recipient of the Publishing Triangle's Bill Whitehead Award for Lifetime Achievement for her scholarly work on Eleanor Roosevelt.
- Professor Thomas Kucharski was quoted in an article posted on livescience.com about the little-understood phenomenon of adults killing children.
- The huffingtonpost.com blogger Belleruth Naparstek mentioned John Jay College of Criminal Justice in a posting on Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder.
- The website silive.com mentioned an upcoming baseball game between John Jay College of Criminal Justice and the College of Staten Island.